HOBBIES:

I love paddling, hiking, and going for walks with my golden doodle, Gunner. Being active, enjoying fresh air, and connecting with the people I love brings me so much joy—and I bring that same energy and passion into the classroom every day.

MY TEACHING PHILOSOPHY:

I truly believe that the outdoors and our lived experiences shape us into who we are meant to be. Nature teaches us to be curious, resilient, and present. I strive to bring this spirit into the classroom—encouraging children to explore, take risks, and discover the world around them with wonder and confidence.
